

1. Flowers.

1. What kinds of flowers do you know?

I don't have much interest in flowers, but I know some names of flowers. For example, a rose and lily are the most popular flowers so that most people know their name. Cherry blossoms are also popular flowers in my country.

2. Are there any flowers that have special meanings in Korea?

Yes, there are. For example, as the rose of Sharon is the national flower, it has a special meaning because that flower symbolizes South Korea. A carnation also has a special meaning, and that flower symbolizes the respect for parents and teachers.

3. Have you planted any flowers?

Yes, I have. Looking back on my school days, my school had a school activity to plant flowers in a school garden. So, at that time, with my classmates, I planted some flowers, and I still have photos of them.

4. Have you sent flowers to anyone?

Yes, I have. A flower is one of the popular types of a gift to other people, so last month was my mother's birthday, so I sent her a bunch of roses to celebrate her birthday because she loves roses.

2. Describe your favorite climate.

1. What kind of climate it is. 2. Where the climate occurs. 3. How hot or cold the climate is.

- Why you like this type of climate.

I'm fascinated to talk about my favorite climate. In my daily routine, my schedule is so hectic that I'm unable to have enough free time. However, a few months ago, I had a holiday, so I traveled to Jeju Island which is one of the most popular attractions alone. I heard that Jeju Island has an oceanic climate, so as it was fascinating to me, I still like the climate for a couple of reasons. Firstly, the climate of the island is affected by the sea, so the weather is mild, which means it isn't too hot or too cold. So, this climate would be suitable for me because I can enjoy outdoor activities in summer or in winter. I don't like being too cold or hot. Moreover, because of its oceanic climate, the island has unique plants that cannot be grown in the mainland of Korea such as bananas and citrus fruits. While traveling on the island, I even saw palm trees and tropical plants, so it was interesting for me, and I took photos of them. Without traveling to the island, I couldn't have become aware of the advantages of this climate.

Part3.

1. Do you prefer a climate with distinct four seasons or a changeable climate?

Personally, I prefer a climate with distinct four seasons. Firstly, if I live in a country with four seasons, I can enjoy different activities in distinct seasons. Moreover, in a changeable climate, weather conditions are unpredictable, but in four seasons, weather is predictable, so I can enjoy wearing different clothes in different seasons.

2. What are the differences between people living in cold places and those living in hot places?

There are some differences. In the case of people in cold places, they wear thick and heavy clothes and live in houses which can protect them from freezing weather. In contrast, those dwelling in hot regions wear light and short-sleeved clothes to cool themselves and live in houses which are ventilative and airy.
